Community involvement pays off as Elba Police make arrests

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Elba Chief of Police Freddy Hanchey this week credited the community watch program as a key factor in the capture and arrest of two burglary suspects.

Hanchey said community involvement is often times necessary to help police identify and capture those responsible for crimes. He said keeping a watch for suspicious activity is the best way citizens can be involved.

Such awareness helped officers quickly locate those believed responsible for a Tuesday, Nov. 21, burglary that occurred on Claxton Avenue in Elba.

Hanchey said the burglary was reported Tuesday, Nov. 21. Later the same day, a local citizen called the police department to report suspicious activity.

Chief Hanchey said officers Anthony Dozier and Candi Stokes responded to this call and located property that met the specifications of some reported taken from the earlier burglary.

After a follow-up by Investigator Tony Harrison, Hanchey said two suspects were arrested.

Joni Lyn Lowery, age 18, of Enterprise, and Sharita Suzanna Williams, age 26, of Geneva, were arrested and each charged with burglary - third degree. Williams also was charged with possession of a controlled substance and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Chief Hanchey also said teamwork among his officers led to the arrest of two individuals believed responsible for a recent vehicle burglary.

On Sunday, Nov. 26, the police department received a report of a burglarized vehicle near the Putnam Street area.

According to Chief Hanchey, the combined teamwork of officer Dozier and investigators Harrison and Andy Gunter led to the arrest of Christopher Raensch and a juvenile in this case.

Raensch, age 23, of Elba, was arrested Wednesday, Nov. 29, and charged with theft of property - second degree and unlawful breaking and entering of a motor vehicle.

Chief Hanchey said he encourages all citizens to continue to be attentive to their surroundings and to immediately report any suspicious activity.

As proven already, he said community involvement does make a difference.

Also, Hanchey said it is especially important for citizens to be alert during the holiday season as burglaries often tend to rise during this time of year. He said citizens should make sure to lock their doors (homes and vehicles) and keep valuable items out of sight.

He also suggested purses and/or wallets not be left in vehicles.

Anyone noticing suspicious activity is asked to call the Elba Police Department (897-2555) or other local law enforcement agencies.

Bankrupt court judge agrees for Pitts Trailers to move forward with plans to purchase Dorsey Trailers

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

The bankrupt court proceedings on the closed Dorsey Trailers facility in Elba moved another step forward with a 10:00 a.m. conference call Tuesday, Dec. 5, between the bankrupt court judge, trustee assigned to the case and all lawyers involved in the proceedings.

The judge officially declared the Colorado group seeking the company assets in default after they failed to meet the November 22nd deadline to post all the agreed upon purchase money for the Dorsey Trailer plant, the name and all other tangible and nontangible properties. It is unclear at this point about the status of the $200,000 down payment the group made to the court several months ago.

The motion setting the November 22nd deadline indicated the money would be forfeited if the balance was not posted with the court by the set date.

According to Attorney Terry

Butts, who represents Pitts Trailers and owner Jeff Pitts, the lone other bidder for the company assets, the judge then asked the secured creditors what their wishes were in this matter and received a request from them that Pitts Trailers be allowed to purchase the company.

The judge agreed for the Pitts firm to move forward with their efforts and set a 10 a.m. January 23rd, 2007 date to finalize the sale.

Butts said the court was advised that Mr. Pitts is awaiting an updated property appraisal for financing purposes and would then be ready to close the deal. That appraisal has been delayed by appraisers having a backlog of work and it is reportedly promised for late December.

Elba Mayor James Grimes has worked closely with Pitts Trailers on this transaction and talked Monday with Mr. Pitts in an effort to speed up the appraisal process or find a certified appraiser who could complete the work sooner.

Elba native named citizen of the year by Andalusia Kiwanis Club

The Andalusia Kiwanis Club named Kim Dyess citizen of the year during its annual Covington County Fair Annual Appreciation Night Monday.

Kim Dyess, a retired educator, is an Elba native. He serves as president of the Andalusia Tennis Association, is a past president of the Covington County Retired Teachers, a member of the Glory Singers and Baraca Quartet at First Baptist Church, and volunteers at Andalusia Regional Hospital.

In one nomination letter written by Marcia Reichert, she wrote of Dyess, "I have learned what an unselfish person he is with his time when it comes to helping other people. ... He supports the school activities, even though he no longer has children in school."

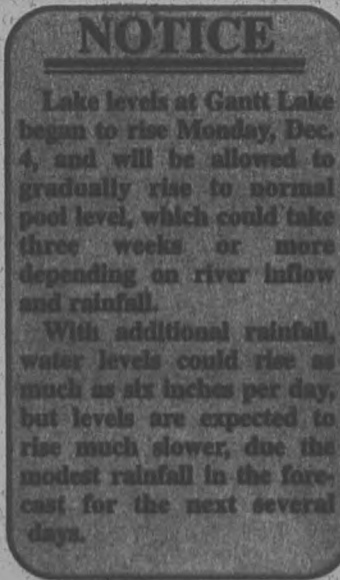

Dyess was invited to the banquet on the pretense that Gov. Bob Riley was to be the speaker. He said he wasn't too disappointed that the alleged guest speaker didn't show.

In accepting the award, he said, "I feel unworthy."

Lake level at Gantt Lake began to rise Monday, Dec. 4, and will be allowed to gradually rise to normal pool level, which could take three weeks or more depending on river inflow and rainfall.

With additional rainfall, water levels could rise as much as six inches per day, but levels are expected to rise much slower, due to the modest rainfall in the forecast for the next several days.

Area Happenings

THE COFFEE COUNTY COMMISSION will meet Monday, Dec. 11, at 9 a.m. in the community room of the county complex in New Brockton.

NEW BROCKTON TOWN HALL will be closed Monday, Dec. 25, and Tuesday, Dec. 26, in observance of the Christmas holidays.

Faye Denise Boyd serves the Elba Police Department as a dispatcher. She joined the department just over four years ago. Boyd has special/advanced training in CPR, Emergency Medical dispatch and NCIC training.

When asked her reason for choosing this career, Boyd said it was "something new."

Away from the office, Boyd said she enjoys working outside and gardening. Her family includes her grandmother Agnes O'Brien, grandfather William Creel, sister Tina Hanchey, brothers Scott Ramen and Dennis Seabrook and nieces Carrie Senn and Stephanie Sanders.

THE TOWN OF NEW BROCKTON let the Christmas spirit flow through its streets last Saturday, Dec. 2, as the annual Christmas Parade was held. This year's Christmas parade was named in honor of the late Jim Driskell, a former mayor of the town. Driskell's family served as grand marshals of the parade. Parade watchers were entertained as floats, beauty queens, marching and equestrian units and much more made their way along the parade route. Those in the parade seemed to equally share in the fun of the annual event. Above, David Dean and his young companions enjoyed a horseback ride through New Brockton. A large group of equestrian units brought the parade to a close. Additional scenes from this year's Christmas Parade can be found on Page 2.

New Brockton Town Council holds short meeting

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The New Brockton Town Council gathered Monday evening, Dec. 4, for the regular monthly meeting.

Council members Richard Driskell and Jeff White were unable to attend the meeting.

During his report to the council, Police Chief Dale Grimes said Officer John Greene resigned in November. He asked the council to officially accept Greene's resignation effective Nov. 30th.

Council member Vicky Harrison made the motion with a second from council member Cal Donnia Howard to accept the officer's resignation. The motion passed by an unanimous vote of the council.

Town clerk Annette Williams said the planning commission approved the final plat for Phase 1 of the Mayberry subdivision project during the committee's last meeting. In regards to the project, Mayor Charles Cole said construction has started on four new houses in the subdivision.

Also during departmental reports, council member Howard thanked everyone for their participation in last week-end's Christmas Parade. She said the parade was a success and she enjoyed it.

In regards to new business, Mayor Cole recommended the council approve a one-time pay raise for town employees. The recommendation included $50 for full-time employees and $25 for part-time employees.

Council member Harrison made the motion for the one-time pay raise as recommended by the mayor. She received a second from council member Howard, and the motion passed unanimously.

One of the town's police vehicles is in need of a new motor, and Mayor Cole recommended the council approve a loan to purchase the new motor. He said the loan will be for $4,025.

This recommendation also was unanimously approved by council members. The motion was made by council member Howard with a second from council member Johnnie Herron.

Mayor Cole asked Chief Grimes to provide an update on the Tyler Street project.

Chief Grimes said work has temporarily halted while concrete platform boxes are being constructed. He said the contractor seems to think the platform boxes will be ready some time around Christmas.

At that point, Grimes said the contractor said work will steadily move along. He added that the contractor hopes to complete the project in January.

Upon reviewing the monthly financial reports, council members approved a motion to pay the bills. Total monthly bills were $43,430.18 with $34,446.36 pre-paid and $8,983.82 to-be-paid.

Council members concluded the meeting by wishing everyone a safe and happy holiday.

BRAINSTORMS
With Ferrin Cox

Today, Thursday, is December 7th. Even after all these years that date sends chills up our spine. This is the anniversary of the Japanese surprise attack on Pearl Harbor. It was a highly successful attack on their part, we might mention. History buffs will undoubtedly forever and ever debate the issue of "How did it happen?" and criticize military leaders and/or intelligence sources for not being prepared. Worse is the suggestion that our leaders of that day purposely allowed the attack to happen unchecked just for an excuse to the American people for the U.S. entering the war. Such a maneuver would have been treason (then or now). There was a time following that surprise attack and sinking of so much of the American Pacific fleet that the American winning of WW II was not guaranteed. That means the great life we enjoy today might have never happened!

Hopefully things are back on track to get the closed Dorsey Trailer plant sold and into production providing jobs which will feed good Elba folks. It sure sounded like the bankrupt court was headed in that direction during a conference call hearing this morning (Tuesday). A flurry of phone calls and e-mails have come into my office in recent days from people in the trailer industry who are interested in the outcome of the bankrupt court proceeding. A couple of former distributors said they still believe in the reputation established by the "old" Dorsey Trailers and express a belief that it can quickly be salvaged by good trailer builders. We share that belief and hope it proves to be correct.

The war in Iraq continues to bring bad news to American citizens. This in turn prompts more and more vocal complaints about the terrible way the war is being conducted and more calls of "cut and run" to save the lives of American soldiers. We wonder where these brilliant people were when American soldiers were preparing to go into those countries? What made them think we could instantly make little U.S.A.s out of those Muslim countries? We predicted then, right here in print, that it couldn't happen and the U.S. would be bogged down for many, many years in this war. Complainers need to realize that to "cut and run" now would only make things worse. Iraq and Afghanistan don't have a strong leadership in place to keep the rogues, thugs and opportunity seekers from really abusing the good, hard working, everyday people of those countries. We have also said that all the oil in the Middle East is not worth a single American life, but if oil was an original issue, it is no longer a driving force. Now we need to stabilize two countries that were destabilized when the ruling politicians were ousted from control (by us). As ruthless as they were, they were in control. Now we must stay until strong government evolves which can settle two countries where violence has historically been used to control debates, establish and maintain controlling power. That has been the norm throughout recorded history and it ain't gonna end just because we want it to change.

LIFESTYLES

Opp's Westview Baptist Church to present drive-through Nativity

In a time when computers, iPods, sophisticated animation and xbox games fill our lives, a stroll through a rustic stable with real people and real animals almost seems a relief to our rushed senses. Westview Baptist Church on Highway 331 North (1404 Main Street) in Opp will present "Bethlehem Drive," a drive-thru living nativity — "The Reason for the Season." Westview members will present their Christmas gift to the community December 15, 16, 17 from 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. and invite everyone to come and take part in witnessing the "greatest story ever told" in drama and with real-live actors.

Church members, in full costumes, will take visitors back into a time to a barn — but not just any barn. It's a holy barn in Bethlehem and members of Westview will be in full period dress as the story of Jesus' birth is told. Visitors are urged to slowly drive from the beginning to the end of specially designated areas in the parking lot. They will drive thru ten scenes with fully-costumed characters and many live animals portraying the Christmas story. Each scene will be narrated as you drive through or you may tune your radio to a designated station and hear the story without opening car windows.

Everyone is invited to stop at the last tent for a cup of hot chocolate sample Christmas cookies and pet the animals. There's a drive-thru for so many things these days, but this one is unusual — and seasonal — a drive through a live nativity scene. In 10-minutes you can drive through a reenactment of Christmas-time in Bethlehem, complete with live scenes surrounding the birth of Christ and including strolling shepherds, angels, kings, sheep, donkey and the holy family.

Many people have asked "Why all this work for three nights?" and Westview replies "The answer lies in the words of two old songs, 'I love to tell the story of Jesus and His glory, I love to tell the story because I know it's true,' and 'Go tell it on the mountains over the hills and everywhere. Go tell it on the mountains that Jesus Christ is born.'"

CHURCH NEWS

PASTOR'S CORNER

Rev. Mart Gray
Covenant Community Church

The bus rolled into the camp parking lot. All the camp counselors lined up at the door to meet their camper for the weekend. As they filed off the bus, some were young, some were older. All had some form of physical and/or mental limitation. Mary was a bright-eyed woman in her mid-40s. She came off the bus using the wheelchair lift, a slow ride down to ground level. Her counselor for the weekend was, well, a friend of a friend. Mary was, as my grandmother would say, large of girth and equally grand was the broad smile that beamed her face each time she responded to a question, "Yeahhh!" No matter the inquiry, Mary always said, "Yeahhh!"

For three days the counselors dutifully rolled Mary from place to place around the camp. Up hill, down hill, to the dining room, to recreation. Like the Little Engine That Could, they huffed and puffed their way through the weekend. Finally, the last night arrived and a dance had been planned for campers and counselors. Mary sat gazing in her wheelchair while others danced around her. Then, in a burst of energy and inspiration, she bounded from the chair and began to help with the best of them. "Mary! You can...WALK!!!" "Yeahhh!" She replied.

As you can imagine there was both joyous laughter and not a little bit of frustration.

It seems when Mary was being loaded to bring Mary to camp, there was no where for Mary to sit but in an empty wheel chair. So, when they got to camp nobody asked Mary if she could walk, they just assumed the wheelchair was hers.

So often we miss the opportunities of real life because we have such a limited confidence in ourselves, and others. We wrap ourselves up in the assumptions of the obvious. Our expectations and opportunities are limited by "seen reality." The Apostle Paul urges us to remember, "We walk by faith...and not by sight."

Christmas will come at us very fast over these three short weeks. I pray that the star shining over Bethlehem, the warm face of the Christ Child in the manger, and the faint echo of the angels singing, "Peace on earth, good will toward all people!" will call us to live beyond our myopic vision. May we learn to walk, indeed to dance by newfound faith and confidence in the Christ Child. Another Mary said it this way, My soul glorifies the Lord and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior, for he has been mindful of the humble state of his servant.

Defeat Zion Chapel and Kinston

Tigers sweep cross-county rivals

THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Since my girls have been old enough to drive I have never been able to go to sleep until I hear them pull into the driveway and then hear the back door lock. Last Friday night I went to bed early, but watched the clock until the phone rang and my youngest daughter told me she had been in a wreck. That call was one I had always feared and was the reason I had lost a lot of sleep over the years. However, the fact she made the call made me feel at least a little better, and after arriving at the scene found a very scared and cold young girl and a badly damaged car. While the car may be a total loss, Melanie was lucky to escape with only bumps and bruises, and now the girls know why Daddy is like he is. The only problem now is I hate the phone to ring at all!

FOR WHAT IT IS WORTH...

 The Elba Tigers posted two wins and one loss last week to push their record to 3-2 on the season. The Tigers made easy work of Zion Chapel early in the week, but struggled late in a win over Kinston and then got ambushed on the road Friday night in a big loss to Laverne. Elba has now played four games, and it is obvious the Tigers will be able to post some wins over teams that aren't blessed with speed and ball-handlers, while they will struggle against teams that have quickness and height. Coach Glen Johnson has told me a couple of times the key to the Tigers' success will be their ability to shoot the ball, but another key will be their ability to avoid turnovers and get good shots. Another thing that is obvious after only two weeks is this is going to be an interesting season.

 The Elba Lady Tigers posted their first win of the season last week with an upset over Zion Chapel, but they got spanked hard in their other two games and must be willing to work hard and learn as they go if they hope to post many more wins this season. Elba was hit hard by graduation and the loss of its leading scorer before the season began, and while the Lady Tigers are showing signs of developing into a team, it may take a while until they are competitive every time they take the floor. Only time will tell.

 A look around the county last week revealed one very good team, one team that is improving every time it hits the court, and one team that may be could very well be headed for a second straight winless season. The top team in the county after two weeks of action has to be the New Brockton Gamecocks. The Gamecocks closed the week with a 6-1 record, and the guess here is they will only get better as the season progresses and they learn from the games they play. Kinston has struggled in early-season play, but the Bulldogs are getting better and it is easy to see they will be a good team before long and should get their share of wins along the way. Zion Chapel failed to win a game last season and early on it looks like the Rebels could very well be headed down that same path. The Rebels have some talent and could win on a good night. However, nothing will come easy for the Rebels this season. As far as the girls teams go, the Kinston Lady Bulldogs are making some noise early on and could be a team to keep an eye on, while Zion Chapel will always be dangerous and New Brockton is improving, if ever so slowly.

 The high school football playoffs enter the championship round this week and the only team still alive is the Pike County Bulldogs. The Bulldogs won the state title a year ago and have been favorites to make it back to Birmingham all season, and this week the 'Dogs will get their chance to make it three state crowns in the past four years. I'm not going to pick scores of the final games, but my picks to take home titles are (6A) Hoover, (5A) Eufraula, (4A) Thomasville, (3A) Clay County, (2A) Leroy and (1A) Sweet Water.

 Since this is the fourth time Alabama Athletic Director Mal Moore has hired a football coach in the past six years it looks like he would have figured a few things out. The current mess can do nothing but hurt the already beleaguered Tide program, and in my opinion only makes it clear that the most important change should be the athletic director. I read somewhere last week that a dead fish starts to smell it smells from head down to the tail, and that means when you make changes you should usually start at the head and move your way down. I agree Mal Moore has done some good things for the university and deserves a lot of credit for pulling himself together. However, as a personnel director he has proven to be a disappointing failure.

"On the Square"
Elba, Alabama

The Elba Tigers hosted two cross-county rivals last week in high school basketball action and swept past Zion Chapel and Kinston to improve their record to 3-1 on the young season.

"We played well in sports in both games," stated Elba's Coach Glen Johnson, "but still have a long way to go. We still aren't shooting the ball as well as we need to win on a consistent basis, and have to figure out a way to be more effective on the boards. Our players aren't going to grow much during the season, and that means we are going to have to accept the fact we have a short team and will just have to work harder to get position under the backboards." Following are highlights of both games:

ELBA 71, Z.C. 25
The Elba Tigers hosted the Zion Chapel Rebels last Tuesday night and made it look easy as they rolled to a lopsided 71-25 win over their cross-county rivals.

The two rivals were tied at 3-3 early in the opening quarter, but baskets by Elba's Aaron Harrison and Jordan McBride helped the Tigers pull out to an 8-3 lead with 3:30 remaining in the quarter. The Rebels caught the Tigers at 8-8 with 2:21 left on the clock. However, four free-throws by Trey Belcher and a pair of long three-pointers by Jason Mitchell sparked a late Tiger rally that enabled Elba to carry an 18-8 lead into the second stanza.

A Jordan Bryant jumper upped the Elba lead to 21-8 early in the second quarter, and even though the Tigers failed to score from the floor for over seven minutes, they were able to add to their lead as they connected on 9 of 16 free-throws and went in at the half with a solid 33-11 advantage.

The Tigers picked up the pace in the third quarter and behind the play of Trey Belcher and Jordan McBride opened the stanza with 10-0 run to open up a 43-11 lead with 5:11 left in the quarter. Zion Chapel finally added to its total with 3:27 remaining in the period, but Elba remained in command and outscored the Rebels 23-4 in the quarter to grab a 56-15 lead.

Elba continued its onslaught early in the fourth quarter as the Tigers' Jordan Bryant scored four quick points to spark a 6-0 run that pushed the Elba advantage to 62-15. The Rebels did connect twice in the quarter from behind the three-point line, but it made little difference as Elba never slowed down and posted the 71-25 win.

Gavin Respress scored 12 points to lead Elba, while Jordan Bryant and Trey Belcher both added 11, and Jason Mitchell scored 10 points. Tim Geddings scored 8 points to lead Zion Chapel.

Elba (71): Hudson 1, Respress 12, Mitchell 10, Harrison 4, Bryant 11, Belcher 11, Morris 9, Tillis 5, McBride 7, Frazier 2, Z.C. (25): Lambert 3, Carter 4, Geddings 8, Stephens 2, Petty 3, Tidwell 2, Morgan 3.

Elba (71): Respress 12, Mitchell 11, Harrison 2, Butts 2, Bryant 7, McBride 2.

Kinston (62): Whigham 1, Bailey, director of the Alabama High School Athletic Directors and Coaches Association (AHSADA).

Play begins at 2 p.m. Thursday (July 12) in the best-of-five series at the University of Alabama at Huntsville. The squad is composed of current juniors.

Sports Week, which also includes in-state all-star games in football, girls and boys basketball, baseball, softball and soccer will feature clinic and special sessions for coaches, athletic directors, cheerleader coaches and officials. A product exposition and other related activities are scheduled throughout the week.

The AHSADA operates under the auspices of the Alabama High School Athletic Association. Membership includes coaches of all AHSAA sports as well as administrators.

Elba's Leanna Henderson scored with 4:46 remaining in the first quarter to get the Lady Tigers on the scoreboard, but the basket only cut the Kinston lead to 6-2, and the Lady Bulldogs scored the game's next seven points as they opened up a 13-2 advantage with 2:48 remaining in the stanza.

Kinston carried a 19-6 lead into the second quarter, and scored the first eight points of the quarter to take a big 27-6 advantage with 6:43 left in the half. A basket by Janae Carney with 3:37 left gave the Lady Tigers their only points of the stanza, and at the half Elba found itself on the short end of a 34-8 score.

The Lady Tigers continued their offensive woes in the second half and scored only six points in the closing two quarters as Kinston rolled to the easy 57-14 road win over Elba.

Kalleigh Sanders scored 24 points to lead Kinston, while Janae Carney scored 5 points to lead Elba.

Kinston (57): McCall 6, Sanders 24, Whigham 5, Smith 3, Marlowe 4, Manning 8, Chance 2, Tidwell 4.

Elba (14): Henderson 4, Carpenter 2, Carney 5, Oliver 3.

0 lead on a basket by Gavin Respress and moved ahead 6-2 with 6:15 remaining in the opening quarter after a short jumper by Trey Belcher, only to see Kinston rally and pull a 6-6 with 3:18 left on the clock. A free-throw by Jordan Bryant gave the Tigers the lead back at 7-6, and Elba closed the quarter with an 11-2 run to open up a 16-8 advantage.

Elba's lead grew to 18-8 early in the second quarter on a basket by Antwon Tillis, and its lead remained in double-digits until midway through the stanza, when the Bulldogs went on a 10-0 run to pull within 25-23 with 1:53 left in the half. A basket by Trey Belcher and two free-throws by Eric Butts enabled the Tigers to stretch their lead back out to 29-23, and Elba went in at intermission with a 31-24 lead.

Elba's Jason Mitchell scored five quick points in the third quarter as the Tigers upped their advantage to 36-24. However, Kinston again refused to allow the Tigers to take command as the Bulldogs rallied and cut the lead to 42-35. A Jason Mitchell three-pointer moved the Elba lead to 45-35 with 1:48 left in the quarter, and Tyshun Frazier scored three points late as the Tigers went into the fourth quarter with a 48-38 lead.

Elba pulled out to a 53-40 lead with 6:36 remaining in the final stanza on a three-pointer by Trey Belcher, and appeared to be back in command when a free-throw by Jimmy Morris gave the Tigers a 58-43 advantage with 4:52 left on the clock. Kinston couldn't cut into the Elba lead for much of the quarter, but did rally late and pulled within 65-58 in the closing minute of play, only to see Elba connect on 6 of 10 free-throws down the stretch as the Tigers claimed the 71-62 win.

Gavin Respress scored 12 points and Jason Mitchell added 11 to lead Elba, while Timothy Donaldson scored 19 points to lead Kinston.

Elba (71): Respress 12, Mitchell 11, Harrison 2, Butts 2, Bryant 7, McBride 2.
